

Maggie Davis

About

Maggie Davis is a student academic advisor at University of Washington. Her passion is helping student is helping students succeed in their academic journey.

“I believe that student deserve to feel comfortable and supported on campus”

Frustrations

- Ensuring students have access to necessary resources

Age: 34

Occupation: UW Advisor

Location: Seattle, WA

Goals

- Provide academic guidance and support to students
- Create a welcoming and inclusive campus environment for all students

Values

- Actively involved in campus diversity and inclusion initiatives
- Attends regular staff meetings and events to stay connected with students